

New Chief Executive of Agility

05 February 2001

Mark Harper has been appointed as the new Chief Executive Officer of the 100% AGL owned business, Agility. The appointment is effective 1 March, 2001.

Mark has had a broad range of management roles in AGL where he has displayed strong financial management, business development and sales and marketing skills.

These skills ideally qualify Mark to take on the role as Chief Executive Officer of AGL's infrastructure management and services group of businesses, all trading under the Agility brand.

Mark joined AGL in October 1987, originally in the role of Internal Audit Manager. He then progressed through a number of positions including Financial Controller of the Gas Company in Sydney, then Manager Information Systems, progressing to Manager of AGL's Southern NSW businesses and Manager Business Development for AGL Gas Companies. Since 1997 Mark has been Manager Business Services and most recently as General Manager Business Sales for AGL Energy Sales and Marketing.

Mark is 44 years old and is married with two children. He holds a Bachelor of Commerce from the University of NSW and is a Member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants.

His appointment follows the earlier announcement of the appointment of Greg Martin as Managing Director of AGL effective 1 March, 2001.
