

AGL's gas wells blend in with the landscape.

There are nine wells in this picture. How many do you see?

AGL has been working with landholders to extract natural gas from coal seams for over a decade, and we work with them to ensure our footprint is minimal. In Camden, south-west of Sydney, we have over 100 gas wells operating side by side farms, horse studs and dairies. This is how we operate wherever we have wells, and it is how we plan on working in Gloucester.
