Corporate Governance Framework

This corporate governance statement describes the corporate governance framework, policies and practices of AGL Energy Limited (AGL). This statement has been approved by the Board and is current as at 12 August 2026.

Throughout FY26, AGL's corporate governance arrangements were consistent with the fourth edition of the Corporate Governance Principles and Recommendations published by the ASX Corporate Governance Council (ASX Principles). Our Appendix 4G, which is a checklist cross referencing the ASX Principles to the relevant disclosures in this Corporate Governance Statement, the 2026 Annual Report and the AGL website, has been lodged with the ASX.

AGL is committed to ensuring that its corporate governance framework, policies and practices reflect a high standard of corporate governance, which underpins and supports the delivery of our strategy and long-term shareholder value.

AGL's governance framework is summarised below.

AGL has adopted a number of corporate governance policies and documents. The corporate governance policies and documents referred to in this Corporate Governance Statement are published on the AGL website.

AGL's Purpose and Values

AGL's Purpose

AGL's Purpose - Powering Australian Life - reflects AGL's passion to power the way Australians live, work and move and our critical role in Australia's energy transition.

At an enterprise level, AGL's Purpose provides AGL and its Directors, employees and contractors with the foundations for actions and, together with AGL's Values, guides AGL's decision making. Further information about AGL's Purpose can be found on AGL's website.

AGL's Values

AGL's three core Values are:

- Bring on tomorrow
- Can do. Will do
- Be safe. Be supportive

They are disclosed on AGL's website and described below.

These Values underpin AGL's operations and the Board and senior management are guided by these core Values when making decisions for AGL.

AGL's Values were developed after substantial consultation with AGL's people. The Executive Team is responsible for instilling AGL's Values across AGL and continually references and reinforces AGL's Values with AGL's people, including through Values campaigns.

Senior management oversees the provision of training to employees about AGL's Values. The Board engages with senior management regularly to get comfort that AGL's Values align with the "lived experience" of the business. The Board recognises the need for continuous improvement in this area and looks for new ways to build its understanding of how AGL's Values are lived in practice (including detailed reporting on employee, customer and stakeholder feedback).

Our Purpose is centred on Powering Australian Life

At AGL, we believe energy makes life better.
That's why we're passionate about powering the way Australians live, move and work.

Bring on tomorrow.

Seize the opportunity. The work we do today impacts the Australia we leave for future generations. We don't have all the answers. But through continuous improvement and working together, we'll uncover opportunities that make history. For all of us. Bring it on.

Can do. Will do.

Make things happen. We show up with a positive attitude. We're resilient, confident, and flexible in the way we work. Combine this with our expertise and insight, we always deliver. For ourselves, each other, and our customers.

Be safe. Be supportive.

Be a good human. Upholding a safe environment at work is on all of us. So we back ourselves and we back each other. Creating a culture where everyone feels included, heard and safe, every day.

AGL's Board

As at 12 August 2026, AGL's Board comprised eight Non-Executive Directors and AGL's Managing Director & CEO, Damien Nicks. An overview of the qualifications, appointment date, experience and special responsibilities of each Director is set out on pages 73 to 76 of AGL's 2026 Annual Report.

Roles and Responsibilities of the Board

The Board is responsible for the overall governance of AGL. The role of the Board is to safeguard AGL's interests and to protect and foster sustainable value creation while taking into account the reasonable interests of shareholders, employees, customers, the communities in which AGL operates and other relevant stakeholders.

Responsibilities of the Chair

Under AGL's Constitution, the Board elects a Chair from amongst the Non-Executive Directors. This means that the roles of the Chair and the CEO are not exercised by the same individual. It is also a requirement of AGL's Board Charter that the Chair be independent.

The Chair presides over AGL's Board meetings and shareholder meetings. Some of the key responsibilities of the Chair include:

- leading the Board in reviewing and discussing Board matters;
- facilitating effective contributions by all Directors and monitoring Board performance;
- reviewing corporate governance matters with the Company Secretary and reporting on those matters to the Board; and
- maintaining a regular dialogue with the CEO, and being the principal communication channel between the Board and management.

Our current Chair is Miles George. The Board is satisfied that Miles George is, and has been throughout the financial year, an independent Director.

Board Meetings

The Board met 10 times during the financial year. Directors' attendances are set out on page 77 of the 2026 Annual Report. The Board held 9 regular scheduled meetings throughout FY26, and 1 additional meeting.

Strategic matters were considered by the Board at each Board meeting. A separate full day session to discuss AGL's ongoing strategy is held annually.

It is usual for the Non-Executive Directors to confer, without management being present, at the start of each scheduled Board meeting. Otherwise, the Executive Team is invited to participate in Board meetings as required.

Independence

The Board regularly assesses the independence of each Director and has determined that each Non-Executive Director is, and was throughout the entirety of the financial year, independent. In accordance with the ASX Principles, the Board has determined that Damien Nicks' role as CEO means that he is not considered to be an independent Director.

AGL considers a Director to be independent if the Director is independent of management and is free of any interest, position or relationship that might influence, or reasonably be perceived to influence, in a material respect their capacity to bring an independent judgement to bear on issues before the Board and to act in the best interests of AGL as a whole rather than in the interests of an individual shareholder or other party.

When assessing the independence of a Director, the Board considers the matters potentially affecting the independence status of a Director as described in Box 2.3 of the ASX Principles. Materiality is assessed on a case by case basis by reference to each Director's individual circumstances rather than by applying general materiality thresholds. As at the date of this statement and throughout the year, there were no relationships or associations of the kind referred to in Box 2.3 of the ASX Principles in relation to AGL's Non-Executive Directors.

Board Composition

Skills and capabilities

AGL seeks to maintain a Board with a broad range of skills, knowledge and experience necessary to provide effective oversight over management and guide the strategic direction of the company. The Board uses a skills matrix to identify the key skills and experience the Board is seeking to achieve in its membership. During FY26, AGL's Board skills matrix was updated, following review by a professional consultant. The core competencies and skills in the Board skills matrix have been updated to reflect the key risks and opportunities facing AGL. The following definitions, approved by the Board, supported the ratings applied for each Director.

Significant Experience – High level of proficiency, knowledge and experience in the subject matter, including through significant tenure in a Director, executive or advisory capacity.

Developed Understanding – Sound knowledge of the subject matter, including through tenure in a relevant Director, executive or advisory capacity or through relevant education.

The skills matrix as at 12 August 2026 is set out in the table below. Individual Board member assessments have been aggregated to inform an assessment of the overall level of capability represented on the Board in each of the identified competencies.

Table 1: Board Skills Matrix

Category	Description	Why it matters to AGL	Competency Level
Operations and project delivery	Experience in managing large-scale energy generation, storage and infrastructure assets, including operational efficiency, major project delivery and project governance.	AGL's strategy is to transition its energy portfolio, and it has an ambition to add 12 GW of new renewable and firming capacity by the end of 2035, including an interim target to add 6 GW by FY30. Skills and experience in operations and project delivery is therefore important to overseeing the delivery of long-term projects, including assessing the risks and opportunities.	4 5
Customer markets	Experience in industries with large and diverse customer bases, including strategies to enhance customer experience, product innovation and responding to new market entrants and disruption	One of AGL's strategic pillars is to connect every customer to a sustainable future. Skills and experience in customer markets is important to supporting AGL to continue to meet the evolving needs of its customers.	2 7

Stakeholder management and communications	Experience in building and maintaining effective relationships with governments, regulators, investors, community groups, First Nations people and other key stakeholders	The role of the Board is to safeguard AGL's interests and to protect and foster sustainable value creation while taking into account the reasonable interests of shareholders, employees, customers, the communities in which AGL operates and other relevant stakeholders. Therefore, it is important that AGL's Board oversees that our approach to stakeholder management and communications supports long-term value creation.	 3 6
Strategy and growth	Experience in developing, setting and executing strategic objectives, including identifying and capitalising on growth opportunities, mergers and acquisitions	AGL has an ambitious strategy and growth agenda to transition its energy portfolio, while continuing to meet the needs of our customers. The Board oversees the development, execution and delivery of AGL's strategy, including that capital allocation is undertaken in line with our strategy.	 9
Transformation and change	Experience in leading and governing organisations through significant transformation and change, including industry disruption, business restructuring, or major operational and cultural transitions	The energy industry is undergoing significant change, which includes both people and technology changes. Therefore, Directors with knowledge and experience of the risks and opportunities associated with transformation and change is essential.	 1 8
People and Culture	Understanding of organisational culture, large and transitioning workforce management, succession planning, remuneration frameworks and the development of new capabilities to support strategy	People are integral to AGL's success, and AGL needs to attract and retain the right talent to deliver its long-term strategy, while fostering a collaborative and performance culture. AGL's Board oversees the remuneration and culture frameworks in place to drive the delivery of AGL's strategy. Additionally, the Board is responsible for guiding AGL's company culture by establishing the "tone from the top".	 1 8
Energy assets and markets	Experience in and knowledge of energy generation assets, renewables, energy trading and wholesale and retail energy markets	AGL's core business includes the operation of energy businesses and investments, including electricity generation, energy storage and the sale of electricity and gas to residential, business and wholesale customers. Therefore, it is essential that the Board as a whole understands the energy industry and the markets in which we operate.	 3 6

Category	Description	Why it matters to AGL	Competency Level
Technology, digitalisation and AI	Experience in technology strategy, cyber security, digital transformation and emerging technologies including artificial intelligence and digital customer solutions	"Technology at the core" is a key part of AGL's strategy, particularly as to how growth and customer experience can be unlocked through technology, digitalisation and AI. Directors with knowledge of the risks and opportunities of technology support the Board in assessing how we can leverage related developments to implement change, manage risk and realise opportunities.
Financial/ Capital Markets	Proficiency in financial accounting and reporting, internal financial controls and capital management, including experience with equity and debt funding, credit markets and corporate transactions	AGL's Board must be able to understand the financial drivers of our business and evaluate our financial statements and other periodic reports. Furthermore, given AGL's ambitious strategy, experience with capital markets and corporate transactions is imperative in the delivery of AGL's strategy.
Energy transition and ESG	Understanding of the risks and opportunities associated with decarbonisation and the energy transition, including climate-related risks and opportunities, and broader ESG considerations	Embracing ESG is another key part of AGL's strategy, and it is essential that AGL factors ESG considerations into the work we do and the decisions we make. The Board oversees that ESG considerations are embedded across the enterprise, and the risks and opportunities are appropriately considered.
Governance	Experience implementing or overseeing high standards of corporate governance in a large, complex organisation	Demonstrating leadership and overseeing our corporate governance practices are key responsibilities of AGL's Board.
Safety, risk and compliance	Experience in identifying, assessing and monitoring risk, including HSE risks and other non-financial risks, and overseeing risk and compliance management frameworks in regulated operating environments	AGL's Board oversees our internal controls and systems for monitoring risks and compliance. The Board needs to be aware of, and anticipate, the material risks that may impact our operations, performance or reputation. In particular, AGL operates a large, complex business and the Board oversees our approach to maintain the health, safety and wellbeing of our people.

Nominations and Appointment

The Nominations Committee oversees matters related to the composition of the Board, including arrangements for the selection and appointment of new Directors. When considering the appointment of a new Director, the Nominations Committee typically engages the services of a recruitment firm to assist in identifying suitable candidates to be shortlisted for consideration for appointment to the Board and to carry out appropriate reference checks (including due diligence of a person's character, experience, education, criminal record and bankruptcy history) before the Board makes an offer to a preferred candidate.

Newly appointed Directors must stand for election at the next AGM after their appointment. The Notice of Meeting for the AGM provides shareholders with material information about each Director standing for election or re-election, including details of their relevant skills, independence, experience, other directorships and whether the Board supports the election or re-election of the Director. Directors seeking election and re-election are also given the opportunity to address the AGM and to answer questions from shareholders.

New Directors receive a formal letter of appointment that sets out their duties, responsibilities, rights and remuneration entitlements, together with an induction pack.

Board Effectiveness

Building director capability

The formal letter of appointment and induction program provided to a newly appointed Director includes detailed information to allow the new Director to gain an understanding of:

- AGL, its operations and governance systems;
- the rights, duties and responsibilities of Directors;
- the role of each Board Committee;
- the roles and responsibilities of the Executive Team; and
- AGL's financial, strategic, and operational risk management position.

AGL's Director induction program includes a series of meetings with members of AGL's Executive Team and deep dives on AGL's key business areas.

Directors also undertake a program of ongoing Director education, including presentations on a range of topics relevant to AGL's business activities, including compliance training and presentations by industry and subject matter specialists. This year, Directors were given the opportunity to have discussions with a range of external presenters, including the Chair of the Productivity Commission, senior executives from Tesla Energy APAC and another ASX listed entity, the Chair of the independent review of the National Electricity Market, Chair of the Australian Energy Market Commission, senior representatives from the Department of Home Affairs and the Chair of the Board safety committee of a key contractor. Professional experts provided presentations on the energy industry, the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission's new merger regime, Director's Duties in relation to workplace health and safety and the new reporting regime for climate-related disclosures. In addition, "fireside chats" with management are held regularly to facilitate deep dives on key and emerging issues affecting the business.

The Board also periodically reviews whether there is a need for existing Directors to undertake professional development to maintain the skills and knowledge needed to perform their role as Directors effectively.

Performance and Evaluation

The Board regularly reviews its own performance, the performance of Board Committees and the performance of individual Directors. An externally facilitated Board Review was undertaken in FY26, having regard to:

- the responsibilities of the Board; and
- a number of other matters including oversight of strategy, culture, risk and compliance, operational and financial performance, governance structure and roles and relationships.

Overall, the FY26 review concluded that the Board is continuing to function effectively in the discharge of its responsibilities. A number of continual improvement opportunities were discussed to further strengthen oversight of key areas and ensure the Board continues to be well equipped to guide and govern AGL through its next strategic stage.

Evaluation of Board Committees

The Charters for each of the standing Board Committees require that each Committee annually review its own performance. During FY26, each Board Committee discussed its performance over the past 12 months and potential improvement opportunities having regard to the outcomes of the externally facilitated Board Review. Each Committee considered, together with relevant members of management, whether it had achieved its objectives for the financial year and reviewed the effectiveness of the Committee and how its members had worked together, including with management. Following this review, each Committee was satisfied that it had been effective in performing its responsibilities under its Charter.

In November 2025, the Safety & Sustainability Committee visited the Tomago Battery site.

AGL's Executive Team

The Board has delegated to the CEO, Damien Nicks, the authority to manage AGL's day-to-day affairs and the authority to manage AGL's affairs in relation to all matters, other than those responsibilities reserved by the Board to itself or to its standing Board Committees, including in the Board and Board Committee Charters.

The CEO's role includes:

- leading AGL's Executive Team;
- being accountable to the Board for AGL's overall management and performance; and
- management of AGL in accordance with the strategy, business plans and policies approved by the Board.

The CEO has authority to sub-delegate to the Executive Team. The Executive Team comprises the CEO and senior managers who report directly to the CEO.

Specific limits on the authority delegated to the CEO and the Executive Team are set out in a Delegations of Authority Policy approved by the Board.

Each member of AGL's Executive Team (including the CEO) is employed under a Service Agreement that sets out the terms on which the Executive is employed including details of the Executive's duties, responsibilities, rights and remuneration entitlements. The Service Agreement also sets out the circumstances in which the employment of the Executive may be terminated by either AGL or the Executive, including details of notice periods and the amounts payable to the Executive as a consequence of the termination by AGL of the Executive's employment.

When considering the appointment of a new Executive, AGL carries out appropriate reference checks (including due-diligence in respect of the candidate's character, experience, education, criminal record and bankruptcy status) before AGL makes an offer of employment to the candidate.

While Executive Team members have individual accountability for their respective business functions, the Executive Team has collective accountability for management of risk across AGL. This is supported by, among other things, regular results and priorities meetings where emerging risks and key decisions affecting the business are discussed and agreed by Executive Team members.

The CEO and other members of the Executive Team regularly attend Board and Committee meetings to report on and discuss key issues and the existing and emerging risks of the business. The Directors have the opportunity, where required, to question the Executive Team and hold Executives to account in relation to particular issues that may arise.

Remuneration

The Remuneration Report on pages 80 to 102 of the 2026 Annual Report sets out AGL's policies and practices for remunerating Non-Executive Directors and Executives. The arrangements that apply to the CEO and Executive Team are different to those of Non-Executive Directors.

Performance Evaluation

The Board reviews the CEO's and Executive Team's performance annually against agreed performance objectives and other relevant factors. The CEO and Executive Team performance evaluations were conducted for FY26 in accordance with this process. Details of the evaluation process and the linkages between the result of performance evaluations and remuneration are disclosed in the Remuneration Report on pages 80 to 102 of the 2026 Annual Report.

Company Secretary

The Board is responsible for the appointment of AGL's Company Secretary.

AGL's General Counsel & Company Secretary, Melinda Hunter, acts as secretary of the Board and each Board Committee, attending all meetings of the Board and Board Committees. Melinda Hunter fulfils other management responsibilities in addition to company secretarial duties in her role as General Counsel. The formal reporting line of Melinda Hunter is to the CEO.

In her capacity as Company Secretary, Melinda Hunter is accountable to the Board through the Chair on all corporate governance matters and all matters to do with the proper functioning of the Board.

Diversity and Inclusion

AGL recognises that a diverse workforce enhances its ability to engage with and serve its customers and the communities in which it operates. In FY26, AGL continued to strengthen workplace foundations that enable people to contribute fully, drawing on a breadth of experience and perspective to respond to the challenges and opportunities of the energy transition.

The Board, through the P&PC, oversees AGL's diversity and inclusion strategy, metrics and outcomes. Management is accountable for delivery, with the Executive Team owning enterprise outcomes and leaders responsible for embedding inclusive practices. This governance supports a disciplined focus on outcomes, including how AGL listens to employee experience, holds leaders accountable for inclusive practices, and tracks progress over time. Throughout FY26, AGL continued to embed inclusion expectations into leadership capability through targeted learning, strengthened employee listening and insight, and maintaining a focus on measurable objectives for diversity and inclusion outcomes.

AGL's Diversity and Inclusion Policy outlines our commitment and approach to embedding these principles throughout our workplaces. During FY26, AGL's Diversity & Inclusion Council (Council), chaired by the CEO, evolved to further embed leadership accountability across the enterprise. Executive Leadership Team members were incorporated into the Council, strengthening its role in shaping strategy, elevating insights and driving coordinated action across the business.

The Council brings together AGL's Diversity Employee Network Groups, acting as an advisory body to elevate insights, identify systemic barriers, and support coordinated action across the enterprise. The focus of these Employee Network Groups is detailed below.

AGL Carers	Support our people to thrive in integrating their personal, work, family and caring lives.
AGL Ability	Create an accessible and inclusive workplace for people with disability.
AGL Equality	Achieve gender diversity and equality at all levels of our organisation.
Reconciliation Engagement Network	Understand and respect the history of the land we live and work on and reflect Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander identities within our workforce.
AGL Cultures	Respect and reflect the cultural identities of the communities we operate in within our workforce.
AGL Shine	Inspire a culture where LGBTQ+ people feel valued, safe and can be their best every day.

AGL's Shine network and supporters joined the Pride March through St Kilda as part of the 2026 Midsumma Festival.

The P&PC recommends measurable objectives for achieving gender diversity to the Board for adoption each year and receives regular reports on the progress against strategic goals. Guided by the 40:40:20 Vision, AGL strives to achieve a gender balance of 40% men, 40% women and 20% any gender across our workforce. This approach was adopted for AGL's gender diversity targets for FY24-26. Progress against those objectives during FY26 is set out in the table below. During FY26, the Board approved new targets for FY27-29, which are also included in the table on page 18.

Diversity and Inclusion

In FY26, the target relating to female representation at the Senior Executive level was met. AGL continues to make improvements in the representation of females across the AGL workforce and in the leadership pipeline through targeted initiatives. However, meeting the 40:40:20 Vision across AGL continues to be challenging. The energy industry is one of the most male-dominated industries in Australia, with around 30% female representation.¹ Our FY27-29 strategy focuses on converting established foundations into more consistent, measurable outcomes, with an emphasis on addressing structural barriers and strengthening pathways for females into senior and technically specialised roles.

1. AGL's Inclusion Index is calculated on the % favourable scores to the Inclusion Factor questions in AGL's annual Employee Listening Survey.

2. Board includes Executive and Non-Executive Directors, including the Managing Director & CEO.

3. Senior Executive includes the Executive Team directly reporting to the Managing Director & CEO.

4. Senior Leadership Pipeline includes Management Levels: Enterprise Leadership Team (which comprises the Executive Team and each direct report to an Executive Team member), A and B, as per AGL's Position Framework.

5. AGL Workforce includes all permanent and maximum term employees.

AGL has supported several priority activities during FY26 to promote diversity and inclusion at AGL. Details of key initiatives are summarised below.

1. A gender balanced and diverse workforce

AGL acknowledges the diversity of its workforce while recognising areas where representation lags behind Australian society. In FY26, a key focus continued on increasing the representation of women through inclusive talent practices and showcasing our commitment to inclusion in our Employee Value Proposition.

Our sustained commitment to gender equality in recruitment resulted in female hiring rates consistently above 40% throughout FY26.

AGL maintained a 0% pay equity gap for comparable roles and continued regular pay equity reviews as part of our remuneration processes. For the fourth consecutive year AGL reduced overall gender pay gap for total remuneration, decreasing from 26.0% in March 2025 to 24.7% in March 2026.

2. An inclusive culture

In FY26, AGL strengthened inclusive people practices and policies across Talent Acquisition, Talent Management, Succession Planning, Learning, and Workplace Behaviour - reinforcing expectations for respectful behaviour, strengthening avenues for support and early intervention, and embedding a diversity and inclusion lens into key workforce and leadership decisions. AGL leaders are held accountable for inclusion through a targeted leadership goal that reinforces expectations for safe and respectful teams.

During FY26, AGL continued to build inclusive leadership capability through its Leadership Compass framework, including the 'Inclusive relationships' capability module, supporting practices that strengthen everyday inclusion, such as how leaders seek feedback, respond to concerns, and create environments where people can contribute fully and perform at their best.

AGL continued to listen and engage through employee listening, leader 'listen and learn' activities and network-led engagement. Employee networks and the Council continued to provide insight into lived experience, elevate inclusion priorities, and support participation in enterprise initiatives and key moments across the year.

1. Workplace Gender Equality Agency, Gender Equality Data Explorer, 2024–25 reporting year, Australian Government.

AGL leveraged data, benchmarks and insights to inform priorities and to focus attention where outcomes matter most. Building on improved self-identification and people analytics capability, AGL strengthened our ability to understand the composition of our workforce, track progress against enterprise measures, and target actions to improve experience and representation over time.

AGL launched the inaugural Festival of Inclusion and a new diversity and inclusion campaign – I am the I in Inclusion – at multiple AGL sites. This campaign is grounded in everyday actions like listening, learning and respect – helping individuals show up as their best selves, contribute ideas, support customers and play our part in the energy transition.

AGL’s diversity and inclusion progress has been reflected in external recognition and benchmarks, including:

Australian Financial Review BOSS Best Places to Work 2026	Gold award (Agriculture, Mining and Utilities category)
Work180: Top 101 Employers for Women in 2026	Ranked 17th at this year’s Australian Equitable Workplace Awards. Finalists in the Representative Leadership (large enterprises) and Strategic Commitments (large enterprises) categories, and industry finalist in the Mining, Resources and Energy Industry category.
Pride in Diversity	Platinum Status since 2022.
Australian Disability Network’s Access and Inclusion Index 2025¹	Ranked 1st out of 27 participating organisations and 1st in the Electricity, Gas and Water Supply industry. We were also the most improved organisation.
MindTribes	Collective Impact Award winner at the MindTribes inaugural Business in Colour Awards 2025.
Family Friendly Workplaces	Re-certified as a Family Inclusive Workplace 2025-2027.

1. The 2025 Access and Inclusion Index was announced in May 2026.

3. An inclusive energy future

In FY26, AGL contributed to broader sector progress through collaboration and shared learning focused on improving inclusion and representation in the energy industry. This included continued engagement with external partners and initiatives that support gender equality, safety and respectful workplaces across the sector.

As a proud member of the Champions of Change Coalition, AGL continues to support industry-wide action on gender equality and inclusion. In FY26, CEO Damien Nicks signed the Coalition’s Inclusive AI Pledge, reinforcing our commitment to using emerging technologies in ways that promote fairness, inclusion and respect. We also continued to embed inclusion across workforce planning, leadership accountability, talent strategies and governance, with a focus on equitable opportunities, representation, flexible work and inclusive workforce transformation.

AGL also strengthened inclusion for customers and communities through initiatives that support accessibility, energy literacy and practical assistance. AGL progressed work to make information easier to understand and access for diverse customer needs, including culturally and linguistically diverse communities.

As AGL transitions to its FY27-29 strategic focus, it will continue to mature its inclusion approach by strengthening everyday inclusion through employee listening, enhanced leadership accountability, targeted action and disciplined measurement of outcomes.

AGL won the Gold award in the Agriculture, Mining and Utilities category at the 2026 Australian Financial Review BOSS Best Places to Work awards.

Risk Management Framework and Financial Reporting

AGL faces a wide variety of risks due to the nature of its operations. A strong risk management culture, and an effective risk management framework, are critical to achieving our strategic, operational and commercial objectives.

AGL is committed to ensuring that risk management practices are embedded into all business processes and operations in order to drive consistent, effective and accountable action, decision making and management practice.

Details of AGL's material strategic risks, including AGL's economic, environmental and social risks and how these risks are managed, are set out in the Operating and Financial Review and Sustainability sections of AGL's 2026 Annual Report on pages 14 to 67 and 105 to 158 respectively.

Risk Management Framework

AGL maintains and regularly reviews a Risk Management Framework and approach that is aligned to the principles and requirements of the International Standard ISO 31000:2018 Risk Management - Guidelines. The key elements of AGL's Risk Management Framework are set out below.

The Board has adopted a Risk Management Policy that sets out AGL's objectives for risk management and clearly articulates the responsibilities of all AGL's people in relation to the management of financial and non-financial risks. AGL has also adopted a Risk Appetite Statement, which is approved by the Board and overseen by the ARMC.

AGL seeks to embed risk management principles and practices into strategy development and day-to-day business processes and decision making to achieve robust and responsible commercial outcomes. AGL's Risk Management model is based on the "three lines" model and is illustrated in the table below.

AGL systematically examines all operational and financial activities to identify material risk exposures using an enterprise-wide risk program aligned with ISO 31000. This program is supported by AGL's Risk Management Framework, which includes:

- AGL's Risk Appetite Statement;
- AGL's Risk Management Policy; and
- AGL's Risk Management Standard, the objectives of which are to provide guidance to AGL employees on when and how to conduct risk assessments, to ensure consistency in approach to risk identification, evaluation and management, to define risk escalation thresholds, and to establish a common 'risk' language across the business.

AGL has implemented a number of other policies that support the identification and management of specific categories of risk (such as its Critical Infrastructure Risk Management Program), or directly or indirectly serve to mitigate and manage risk (including the Securities Dealing Policy and the Market Disclosure Policy). AGL also has in place a number of business unit and/or site-based policies and procedures to allow for the safe and reliable operation of power generation plants and other operating assets.

Australia, like many international jurisdictions, is taking measures to provide investors and other stakeholders with greater transparency and accountability regarding organisations' exposure and approach to climate-related issues. Under Chapter 2M of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth), AGL is required to disclose information about climate-related risks and opportunities that could reasonably be expected to affect our financial prospects in accordance with AASB S2 Climate-related Disclosures, which is the mandatory Australian Sustainability Reporting Standard that has been issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board.

AGL's climate-related disclosures are included in the Sustainability Report on pages 105 to 158 of AGL's 2026 Annual Report.

Our decarbonisation objectives are set out in our 2025 CTAP, and build on the commitments set in our inaugural 2022 CTAP. Our 2025 CTAP was approved by shareholders at the 2025 AGM.

Roles of the Board and ARMC

The Board is responsible for approving and monitoring the implementation of policies governing AGL's systems of internal compliance, risk management and control.

The ARMC, among other things, reviews and recommends AGL's risk management policies and material strategic risks (Tier 1 Risks) to the Board for approval and reviews and monitors the implementation of policies and procedures for identifying, assessing, monitoring and managing financial and non-financial risks. During FY26, the ARMC and the Board considered and approved AGL's Tier 1 Risks and Risk Appetite Statement.

The ARMC receives presentations from management on AGL's material strategic risks (both financial and non-financial) and the strategies and controls in place to mitigate or manage those risks at ARMC meetings. The ARMC and the Board annually review AGL's Tier 1 Risks and Risk Appetite Statement, and on an ongoing basis, monitor AGL's performance to assess whether AGL is operating within the risk appetite set by the Board. The ARMC and the Board also review AGL's risk management framework to ensure that it continues to be sound and is operating effectively. During FY26, the Board reviewed and approved AGL's risk management framework and found that the framework was sound, aligned to relevant standards and appropriate for AGL's business context.

In addition, the ARMC is responsible for overseeing the issues, incidents and risks identified by management in regular compliance and risk reports, and ensuring there is clear accountability for, and effective closure of, relevant issues. The ARMC and SSC are collectively responsible for the identification, assessment, prioritisation, assurance, monitoring and management of sustainability and climate-related risks and opportunities.

The ARMC receives presentations from management throughout the year on specific risk topics. Examples include the management of business continuity processes, cybersecurity, plant readiness for peak period operations, treasury and trading operations, compliance and insurance.

Risk Management Framework and Financial Reporting

Internal audit

Group Audit is AGL's internal audit function which provides assurance over the governance, risk management and internal control frameworks of AGL. Group Audit provides the Board and senior management with an independent and objective evaluation of the adequacy and effectiveness of management's control over risk.

The ARMC has responsibility for the oversight of the internal audit function and for approving the internal audit plan submitted annually by Group Audit. In addition to delivering the internal audit plan, Group Audit's responsibilities include providing regular reports to the ARMC and raising any significant issues with the ARMC, including management's actions and the timeframes to address the issues identified. Any overdue actions identified by Group Audit are also reported to the ARMC.

The General Manager, Group Audit has a direct reporting line to the Chair of the ARMC and an administrative reporting line to the General Counsel & Company Secretary. Group Audit is governed by a Charter which is approved by the ARMC that sets out the purpose, role, scope and high-level standards for the function.

Group Audit delivers its objectives through accessing the professional skills and capabilities of:

- trained audit professionals who are part of the Group Audit function; and
- services provided by external consultants in respect of specialist technical or operational areas.

Group Audit's approach to developing the annual Audit Plan involves the consideration of existing and emerging areas of risk, as well as areas of significant change, both within AGL and across the energy industry.

Financial and other corporate reporting

The Board receives reports from management about AGL's financial condition and operational results at each scheduled Board meeting.

The ARMC reviews and discusses the half-yearly and annual financial reports with management and the external auditors, including the disclosures made in those reports and recommends to the Board whether the financial reports should be approved.

Before the Board approves the financial statements for a financial period (including the full-year and half-year), the CEO and CFO provide declarations to the Board that, in their opinion, the financial records of AGL have been properly maintained and that the financial statements comply with the Accounting Standards and give a true and fair view of the financial position and performance of AGL. They also provide confirmation that these opinions have been formed on the basis of a sound system of risk management and internal control, which is operating effectively.

AGL is committed to providing clear, concise and effective disclosure to shareholders and other stakeholders in its corporate reports. In circumstances where AGL's auditor has not been required to review a periodic corporate report, AGL conducts an internal verification exercise (with assistance from third party professional services firms where appropriate) to ensure that such reports are materially accurate, balanced and provide investors with appropriate information to make informed investment decisions. Material statements in these documents are verified by relevant business management prior to approval for release to the market.

External auditor

The role of the external auditor is to provide an independent opinion that AGL's financial reports are true and fair and comply with applicable regulations.

AGL's current external auditor is PricewaterhouseCoopers and Trevor Johnston is AGL's audit partner. The external auditor attends the AGM each year and shareholders have the opportunity to ask the auditor written questions in advance of the AGM or to ask questions at the AGM relevant to the audit.

AGL's Auditor Independence Policy includes details of the procedures for the selection, appointment, independence and performance of the external auditor.

Under the Auditor Independence Policy, the external auditor is precluded from providing any services that might threaten their independence, or conflict with their assurance and compliance role.

Reports on the provision of auditing and related services are provided to the ARMC on a regular basis. The ARMC and the Board concluded that non-audit services provided during FY26 did not compromise the external auditor's independence requirements under the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth).

The performance of the external auditor is discussed by the ARMC following completion of the full-year financial statements. The Chair of the ARMC subsequently meets with the external auditor to discuss recommendations for improvements to the conduct of the audit.

AGL's Key Corporate Governance Policies

Details of AGL's key corporate governance policies are summarised below. Copies are available on AGL's website.

Code of Conduct

AGL has a Code of Conduct that applies to AGL and its Directors, employees and contractors and sets out the standards of responsibility and ethical conduct required of 'our People'. The Code of Conduct was updated during FY25. AGL's commitments under the Code of Conduct are as follows:

- We are fair and honest.
- We comply with the law, regulations and our obligations.
- We act professionally.
- We respect privacy and confidentiality.
- We manage conflicts of interest.
- We look after our People.
- We respect our stakeholders.
- We uphold the values and commitments outlined in the Code of Conduct.

Training on the Code of Conduct is part of the induction process for new AGL people. In addition, all AGL people complete online refresher training modules on the Code of Conduct annually.

The Code of Conduct provides a mechanism to enable AGL's people to report actual or suspected breaches, including an independent service to allow for anonymous reporting. An Ethics Panel oversees the application of the Code of Conduct at AGL, including overseeing the investigation of alleged breaches of the Code of Conduct where appropriate, monitoring compliance and recommending amendments to the Board.

Any material breaches of the Code of Conduct are reported to the Board and monitored until the relevant breach is considered closed.

Whistleblowing	Anti-bribery and Corruption
AGL's Whistleblower Protection Policy encourages reporting of suspected unethical, illegal or undesirable behaviour and promotes a culture of honest and ethical conduct. This policy is reviewed every two years (or earlier if required) and was updated during FY25. A third party whistleblower service provider facilitates AGL's employees and other stakeholders speaking up regarding any concerns that AGL or its people are failing to meet ethical or legal standards. A report on any material whistleblower incidents is provided at each in-person Board meeting.	AGL's Anti-Bribery, Corruption and Fraud Policy prohibits any AGL activities that cause, support, or conceal corruption or bribery in any form. This policy is reviewed every two years (or earlier if required) and was updated during FY25. Any material breaches are reported to the Board.
Continuous Disclosure	Dealings in AGL Shares
AGL's Market Disclosure Policy describes AGL's continuous disclosure obligations and how they are managed by AGL. This policy is reviewed every two years (or earlier if required) and was updated during FY25. AGL's Market Disclosure Committee comprises the CEO, the Company Secretary, the CFO and the Head of Investor Relations. The Committee is responsible for monitoring compliance with the policy including determining whether market sensitive information should be disclosed to the ASX. Directors receive copies of all announcements immediately after notification to the ASX. All ASX announcements are available from AGL's News Centre.	AGL's Securities Dealing Policy outlines when AGL employees may deal in AGL securities, or the securities of other companies. This policy is reviewed every two years (or earlier if required) and was updated during FY25. This policy specifically prohibits AGL's Directors, Executives and employees from using derivatives in relation to any unvested AGL securities that have been granted under any of AGL's equity-based remuneration schemes. Derivatives may be used in relation to AGL securities that have vested, provided any dealing in those derivatives complies with the other requirements of AGL's Securities Dealing Policy.
Compliance Management Policy
AGL is committed to maintaining a culture of compliance and ethical behaviour that is underpinned by its Purpose, Values and the AGL Code of Conduct. AGL's Compliance Management Policy sets out AGL's compliance management objectives, AGL's compliance management approach and clearly articulates responsibilities of all AGL personnel in relation to compliance. Building and maintaining a strong compliance culture is critical to achieving AGL's strategic, operational and commercial objectives.

Stakeholder Engagement

AGL operates an investor relations program to facilitate effective two-way communication with investors. This program seeks to keep shareholders informed about AGL's activities and to listen to issues or concerns raised by shareholders.

AGL holds regular investor briefings, webcasts these events (where practicable) and provides materials, archived recordings and transcripts via the AGL website.

As well as attending broker-sponsored conferences, AGL participates at several industry conferences throughout the year.

Copies of new and substantive investor or analyst presentations are lodged with the ASX ahead of the presentation and, where practicable, shareholders are provided with the opportunity to participate in such presentations.

AGL also regularly engages with corporate governance advisory firms, shareholder representative bodies, institutional investors, proxy advisers and retail investor groups to understand market expectations on topics including governance, ESG and remuneration. The Chair of the Board and the Chair of the P&PC both participate in meetings with such organisations so the Board can be in a better position to receive direct feedback about the effectiveness of AGL's corporate governance arrangements.

Fundamental to AGL's investor relations program is the management of our continuous disclosure obligations, which facilitates all shareholders having access to important company information. In addition to lodging this information with the ASX, AGL uses its website to make information about the company and its activities available to shareholders. The Investor Centre on AGL's website contains a wide range of information relevant to shareholders including copies of past Annual Reports and ASX announcements and an Investor Calendar.

Shareholders may elect to receive all shareholder communications, including dividend statements and announcements by email and may also communicate with AGL and the Share Registry (Computershare) electronically.

In relation to AGMs, AGL's practice is to hold a hybrid meeting to allow shareholders the opportunity to participate in person or online. Shareholders are invited to submit questions before the meeting. This helps the company understand shareholder issues and concerns and address key areas of shareholder feedback. The Chair also encourages shareholders to ask questions and make comments about AGL's operations and the performance of the Board and senior management at the AGM. The Chair may respond directly to questions or, at their discretion, refer a question to another Director, the CEO or a member of the Executive Team. All resolutions at the AGM are decided by a poll.

Shareholder meetings are webcast and analyst/media briefings in relation to half-year and full-year financial results and other significant events can be heard by teleconference.

The AGL Share Register is managed and maintained by Computershare Limited. Shareholders can access their shareholding details or make enquiries about their current shareholding electronically by quoting their Shareholder Reference Number (SRN) or Personal Identification Number (PIN), via www-au.computershare.com/Investor or by emailing aglenenergy@computershare.com.au.

In addition to AGL's investor relations program, AGL has a comprehensive stakeholder engagement program. AGL actively engages with government, regulators and policy makers in relation to the challenges and opportunities facing AGL, the energy industry and its customers. AGL also actively engages with its customers and the communities where it operates to understand the matters that are important to customers and those communities. The Board receives regular updates on AGL's stakeholder engagement plans, and also meets with relevant stakeholder groups during the year.

AGL's 2026 Annual General Meeting

This year AGL's AGM will be held at the Melbourne Convention and Exhibition Centre on 1 October 2026. Further details about the AGM will be included in the Notice of Meeting.
