1. What is AGL Payment Support Victoria

AGL Payment Support Victoria is AGL's Victorian payment difficulty program, which is in accordance with the Electricity Industry Act, Gas Industry Act, and the Energy Retail Code of Victoria, which sets out retailers' obligations, minimum customer entitlements and takes precedence over this hardship policy in all circumstances.

The program is available to Victorian residential customers who are experiencing temporary or long-term payment difficulties that make paying their gas and/or electricity bills difficult.

Our team will work with customers to provide assistance for their individual needs and establish a personalised payment plan. Whilst customers are actively participating in the AGL Payment Support Victoria programs, which includes adhering to their agreed payment plan, we will ensure the customers' home is not disconnected and there is no collection action on those accounts.

The AGL Payment Support Victoria program forms part of AGL's 'shared responsibility model'. Under this model, energy retailers, the government, community groups and customers should all share responsibility for assisting customers in financial hardship:

- > Customers should actively engage with their energy retailer as soon as possible to inform them of any difficulty they are having paying their bill, including being available to respond to contact to enable retailers to assist customers facing difficulty. Retailers, community groups and government agencies should all work with customers to encourage them to make this contact and discuss their circumstances openly;
- > It is imperative that customers inform AGL on how much they can pay, and we will work with you to establish an appropriate payment plan and where appropriate we can refer you to support services such as financial counselling;
- > Government should continue to assist customers in financial hardship through the provision of concessions and grant programs. Ultimately, where a customer has insufficient income for life's essentials, Government should provide appropriate income support; and
- > Community groups should assist in the identification of customers experiencing payment difficulty and provide information on, and assist customers access to, available support.

1.1 Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to highlight the key features of the AGL Payment Support Victoria program and outline your customer entitlements in accordance with the Energy Retail Code of Victoria and relevant legislation.

1.2 Scope

This policy applies to all AGL and PowerDirect Victorian residential customers, with electricity and/or gas accounts. Non-residential customers and customers outside Victoria are ineligible for AGL Payment Support Victoria. For customers who fall outside Victoria and require hardship assistance, please visit the AGL website on www.agl.com.au to obtain information on the AGL Staying Connected program in other states.

2 How AGL Payment Support Victoria works in Victoria

AGL's Payment Support Victoria program offers customers a number of flexible payment options to assist you in taking early action to manage your payments, to avoid getting into arrears and reduce the risk of disconnection.

2.1 Standard Assistance – AGL Payment Support Victoria

The following standard assistance payment options are available to Victorian residential customers who are not in arrears or for customers who are in arrears if standard assistance would assist them in paying their bill:

- > Making equal payments at regular intervals determined by AGL;
- > Providing options for making payments at different intervals; and
- > Paying for energy use in advance.

2.2 Tailored Assistance 1 – AGL Payment Support Victoria

Tailored Assistance 1 is available to residential customers in Victoria who are in arrears and are able to pay the full cost of their ongoing energy use but require assistance in managing these arrears.

2.2.1 If you are a customer in arrears and can pay the full cost of your ongoing energy use, you will be entitled to the following assistance:

- > Repayment of your arrears over not more than 2 years by making payments at regular intervals of up to one month;
- > Advice from AGL about payment options that would enable you to repay your arrears over a period of two years or less;
- > Specific advice about the likely cost of your future energy use and how this cost may be lowered; and
- > Specific advice about any government and non-government assistance (including Utility Relief Grants and energy concessions) that may be available and could help you meet your energy costs.

2.3 Tailored Assistance 2 – AGL Payment Support Victoria

2.3.1 If you are a customer in arrears and cannot pay the full cost of your ongoing energy use, you are entitled to at least the following:

- > Specific advice about the likely cost of your future energy use and how this cost may be lowered;
- > Specific advice about any government and non-government assistance (including utility relief grants and energy concessions) that may be available and could help you meet your energy costs;
- > Practical assistance to help you lower your energy costs. This may include some or all of the following, at the discretion of AGL:
 - > a transfer to the tariff that is most likely to minimise your energy costs (based on your pattern of energy use and payment history);
 - > practical assistance to help you reduce your use of energy, based on your pattern of energy use and individual living circumstances (where there is scope for such action to be taken);
 - > Information about how you are progressing towards lowering your energy costs given at sufficient intervals for you to be able to adequately assess that progress;
- > A period of at least 6 months during which:
 - > Repayment of your arrears is put on hold; and
 - > You pay less than the full cost of your on-going energy use while working to lower that cost.

AGL may choose to extend the period in which your arrears are put on hold if we believe that this extension would assist you to continue to lower the cost of your energy use.

Where you have had your arrears put on hold for a period you may, at the end of that period, exercise the entitlements outlined in section 2.1 above.

To do this, we require you to adhere to your payment arrangements, or actively engage with AGL should your circumstances change.

Our team will make attempts to phone you on all telephone numbers that you have provided, make attempts in the morning, afternoon, and evening on different days. Centrepay is a free voluntary bill paying service where deductions come from your Centrelink payments and can be used to pay your energy bills. If you are receiving Centrelink benefits, we recommend you setup scheduled payments through Centrepay. We encourage you to speak with us to ensure you understand more about how this service works.

If you are unable to use Centrepay, AGL also offers a number of other ways to make payments. Other payment methods AGL offer and which may meet your circumstances, include:

- > BPAY
- > Direct debit
- > Credit Card
- > Post Billpay
- > PayPal
- > Cheque or Money Order

- > Bill Smoothing
- > Pre-Payment

You can access our most up to date payment information on www.agl.com.au

Please note, if you pay your energy bills using a credit card, or any card that uses a credit card payment facility, AGL is charged a merchant services fee by your financial institution. This will appear on your next bill as 'payment processing fee'. You can view the payment processing fee amount in your relevant state's Fee Schedule available on our website.

There are other methods for paying your energy bills with AGL that won't incur a payment processing fee, which you can learn about in the Billing and Payments section of Help and Support on the AGL website www.agl.com.au

4.2 Government concession and rebates

AGL is committed to ensuring that our customers on the AGL Payment Support Victoria program are getting all the financial support that they are entitled to, including Government energy bill assistance programs such as rebates or concessions for low income earners and customers with medical or life support needs.

As part of your customer commitments, we encourage you to apply and maintain your Government support entitlements to ensure you can continue to demonstrate you are doing all you can to minimise debt and offset consumption. If you are eligible for the Utility Relief Grant Scheme, you are entitled to our assistance in completing and submitting the application.

Alternatively, you can also access financial counsellors through the National Debt Helpline (1800 007 007) which provides free and independent financial advice which considers your entire financial situation.

4.4 Energy Contract Review

Tailored Assistance 2 - AGL will also review your account on a regular basis whilst you are on AGL Payment Support Victoria program to ensure that you are on an energy plan that suits your situation. We understand that ways to reduce your energy usage may not always be clear. Therefore, AGL will provide simple energy efficiency advice to you that may assist in reducing your energy use and future energy costs. This information may include telephone advice, written information, or referral to undergo a home energy audit upon receiving your permission at AGL's discretion
